

Testimonials

Volunteer Andrea Kearns: Being an affiliated team member, working within the community and with people in crisis is a learning experience.

Volunteer Linda Kopp: Through my volunteer work with Victim services, I have learned how and what to say to provide emotional support for victims of crime or tragic circumstances. Volunteering with Victim Services has helped me realize that the feelings of hopelessness and despair I experienced earlier in my own life, have been turned into strengths that allow me to truly understand and empathize with victims.

Volunteer Sandra McLay-Winters: From the mouths of babes: My son age 8 wrote: “When my mom goes on a call something bad has happened and people aren’t feeling so good Mom gives them friendly help”

Volunteer Cindy McCartney: I’ve learned to put life into perspective.

Victim’s Family: On January 1st, our son was killed in a car... while we were on holidays. The first people there to help us... were two volunteers from Victim Services. They were very comforting and helped us until our family could arrive. Thank you for being there for us.
